

Urgent Eye Care Clinic; Victoria's Newest Acute Eye Care Service Opens In Richmond

The walk-in clinic, located at 163 Bridge Road, Richmond, relieves pressure on Melbourne's busy Emergency Departments through expert-led ophthalmic assessment and treatments. Victoria's newest same-day service operates with extended hours to accommodate urgent needs for busy Melbournians, catering for all ages, including children.

Its opening comes after the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine found that 30% of patients who require emergency hospital admission are still waiting eight hours after arrival. This report highlights the increasing need for urgent care clinics catering to non-life-threatening emergencies and the growing demand for fast, accessible eye care across Victoria.

Urgent Eye Care Clinic offers state-of-the-art diagnostic technology and evidence-based eye treatments that ease the growing pressure on busy EDs. With a patient-focused approach and a commitment to better ocular health outcomes for all, the clinic bridges the gap between general medicine and surgical eye care.

Melbourne residents can expect on-the-spot diagnosis and treatment for everything from corneal abrasions and foreign body removals to sudden vision changes, severe eye pain, infections, and more, without the long hospital wait.

The 7-day service was founded by Conor Davis, a highly experienced and therapeutically endorsed Optometrist with nearly two decades of international clinical practice.

"We recognised a critical need for prompt, tailored care for acute eye issues," says Davis. "By providing immediate full-scope ophthalmic assessment, this not only achieves accurate diagnoses and best health outcomes, but also eases the growing pressure on busy Emergency Departments and GP clinics."
